

Knowledgebase > FAQs > What if I file an extension and then decide later to file my tax return on time?

What if I file an extension and then decide later to file my tax return on time?

Jared - 2020-07-20 - FAQs

Filing for an extension increases the amount of time you have to file your tax return but it doesn't require that you file after the deadline. Theoretically, you could file a tax extension and then file your tax return minutes later without issue.